5. SPEAKERS:

A. Norm Rattan, Executive Director of the Thousand Island Frontenac Arch Biosphere Reserve spoke about the Biosphere Reserve Project. Highlights:

b. We are blessed in Eastern Ontario with natural resources which stimulate economic and social development.

c. The Frontenac Arch is the last natural corridor from the Appalachians to the Boreal Forest.

d. There are 5 biological areas meeting in our Biosphere containing the greatest diversity of any place in Canada with an amazing array of wild plants and animals.

e. 90% of the Canadian population live along the border. The human population in this area puts large numbers of species at risk.

f. The Biosphere Project is looking for different approaches such as a Chamber of Conservation to work on sustainability.

g. Also, working on networking, integrating programs at the community level. Recognize the need to work together.

h. The Biosphere is a non-partisan project: not involved in politics on the provincial or federal level.

- i. Funding: Receives $10,000 a year from member organizations. Also look to foundations for grants. Budget is $300,000 to $500,000 a year.
- j. Do shoreline reviews at the request of property owners.
- k. Do lots of work for non-profit organizations.
- l. Biosphere Reserve designation can be retracted if it doesn't live up to UNESCO standards.

8. LOON PLATFORMS: Earl Patric

- a. There are four platforms around the lake. Doug Kilpatrick was the main builder with help from Earl Patric.
- b. What we have learned: platforms can stay out all winter. They do get waterlogged and need to be boosted up with empty plastic containers filled with air. Platforms should be 5" to 7" above the waterline. Also need vegetation. Jeanne and Earl Patric will put vegetation on the platforms in the spring.
- c. Success: One nesting platform behind Horse Island was used. There was some use on the platform by the third Sister but the eggs didn't hatch.

9. WOOD DUCK BOXES: Earl Patric Earl built 6 boxes which LBLA members agreed to take care of on different properties around the lake. The association advanced the money so Earl could get the job started.

- a. 4 boxes were deployed in the fall of 2003 and two in the spring of 2004.
- b. Too early to say if they have been successful.
- c. Earl secured a grant from the MNR (and thanked them publicly) to pay for the materials. The association will be reimbursed. Earl also thanked the association for having faith in this project.

15. CONSTITUTION: Presented by Louise Mantha

a. This is a document which describes who we are, what we stand for, and how we will be governed.

b. By-laws are the longest part of the document.

c. Why have a constitution?

1) Liability protection for LBLA and the executive

2) Easier to write and receive grants

d. Used constitutions from the Charleston Lake Association and Gananoque River Waterways Community Association to help form our own LBLA constitution.
